YELLOW FLAGS

In accordance with the national regulations also applicable to the event, a waved yellow flag displayed during a Special Stage warns competitors solely of an immediate hazard in the vicinity of the marshal post and does not constitute a Red Flag instruction.

The competitor must temporarily reduce their speed in expectance of a hazard when seeing a yellow flag waved.

The waved yellow flag is physically displayed by a marshal – it is not shown on the BeTraced tracking unit.

Once past the localised hazard, the competitor may return to normal racing speeds immediately.

A Red Flag instruction is valid only when communicated through the BeTraced tracking system or when a physical red flag is displayed at a marshal post to a competitor.
